Bio

Belgian rock & metal coverband

Locura is a Belgian rock-metal cover band, made up of seasoned musicians who share a deep passion for powerful music—and a good party. Their goal? To bring the energy, fun, and rawness of rock and metal straight to the crowd. Their setlist is a fiery mix of classic and modern metal tracks, all delivered with their own unique twist. Expect anything from Metallica to Disturbed, with surprises in between—songs you know, but played with Locura's signature style and energy.

Frontman Enrique is a true party animal on stage, unafraid to belt out the heaviest tunes with attitude and charisma. Being huge fan of System of a Down, he brings both aggression and melody to the mic. Guitarists Frank and Mike, bassist Erwin, and drummer Frederik complete the powerhouse lineup. Together, they're a tight, dynamic unit ready to light up any venue.

Whether it's a festival stage, a local bar, a biker meetup, or a wild birthday bash, Locura brings a no-nonsense rock party with pounding drums, screaming guitars, and a vibe that gets everyone moving.
